College Life Made Easier

Last semester, our Director, Naulayne Enders, came up with a brilliant idea to make a blog to help students save money while attending college. This blog, Frugal Living for College Students, has some great advice on meal planning, smart shopping, creative ways to entertain friends, and more!

Before you wrap up your back to school shopping or outfit your dorm once you've moved into your room, please check out this specific post: Back to School. After you're unpacked, make some new friends on the cheap with this Ramen Party post.

Look for new content around the middle of every month as we expand upon this blog!

Summer Reading Continues

KCU faculty, staff, alumni, and students have read over 450 books so far! We are on the cusp of breaking our all-time reading record, and there's five weeks left. New students, if you have read or listened to any books, please email your list to nenders@kcu.edu for your chance to win a $25 Amazon gift card!

Welcome to the Library Team, Ally Collins!

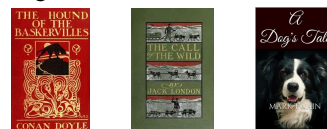

Ally Collins joins KCU Young Library's staff after four years of exemplary student service, and we couldn't be more excited. For our new students, staff, and faculty, here's some fun facts about her, including two of her favorite books (in audio, from librivox.org):

- Avid movie watcher
- Passionate about milk chocolate and coffee mugs
- Devoted Dr. Pepper drinker
- Loves to laugh often

Dog Days of Summer

Traditionally, the "dog days" are the hottest, muggiest days of the year. However, let's focus on the "dog" part with these iconic dog books.

CANVAS

Hello, Canvas! KCU Has a New LMS

Sakai is gone. In its place, we will now be using Canvas, and I believe you will like the change. It's visually appealing, you can easily see announcements, alerts, due dates, and the navigation is intuitive. Uploading assignments will be much easier. Discussion boards will be more manageable. Also, the Canvas app will be embedded on your myapps.microsoft.com dashboard. How exciting!
